Central Core

A PRESENTATION SURROUNDED BY ROCKETS & SATELLITES!

Central Core is the biggest 'room' that Space Expo has to offer. In this area, you are literally surrounded by rockets and satellites and you can overlook the entire exhibition. This beautiful, round room can be used in various ways. You can have your lunch, informal drinks or dinner here. You can also have large gatherings here. The space between the rockets provides a beautifully framed natural stage.

Space Station Square

INFORMAL DRINKS ON THE MOON!

Space Station Square is situated next to a large-scale model of the International Space Station (ISS) and borders the spectacular lunar landscape that serves as backdrop for the lunar module and Neil Armstrong. The perfect place for a networking event over informal drinks or a presentation. The stairway to the International Space Station also offers a perfect stage for speeches or presentations.

JOOS OCKELS

A remarkable and sustainable VIP tour

Joos Ockels, the wife of the late Dutch astronaut Wubbo Ockels, is a very dedicated volunteer at Space Expo. In addition, she is very active in continuing the legacy left behind by her husband, amongst others through the Happy Energy Foundation. You can hire Joos Ockels for a lecture in combination with a guided tour through Space Expo. Based on her experience and personal engagement with the topic, she provides you an insight into space and its connection to sustainability. You can count on a remarkable encounter and presentation. Of course your guests will have the opportunity to ask questions. The VIP tour by Joos Ockels takes one hour; the majority of the proceeds are dedicated to the Happy Energy Foundation.

Technical support & audio-visual resources

CAREFREE, WITH ONE SINGLE POINT OF CONTACT

The Ariane Room and Astronaut Room are equipped with a range of screens and audio-visual resources. At the moment, there are no audio-visual resources permanently installed in the Central Core or Space Station Square. However, we regularly call on the expertise of our preferred supplier, ML Systems, to add temporary equipment to those rooms. This is a supplier we trust, since they are familiar with the possibilities of our location. If you notify us about your preferences, we will work with ML Systems to arrange all the technical equipment you need. You will have only one point of contact. If you would like to arrange the technical set-up yourself, that is possible in collaboration with our technical support staff.
